1.3 Brainstorming, Idea Generation & Prioritization

Step 1 — Problem Selection

The team reviewed the three personas (Elena, Marcus, Amara) and identified that the core unmet need across all three was the absence of a unified, interactive tool for exploring UNESCO World Heritage Site data by category, region, danger status, and inscription year. The team selected the problem: ‘How can we help conservation officers, tourism planners, and policy researchers make faster, evidence-based heritage protection and planning decisions using historical UNESCO World Heritage Site data?’

Step 2 — Idea Listing & Grouping

- Build a category-wise site count chart (Cultural vs. Natural vs. Mixed)
- Create a world map showing site locations coloured by danger status
- Develop a region-wise Danger List ranking chart
- Build an inscription-trend line chart showing sites added per year since 1978
- Design role-specific dashboards for the Conservation Officer, Tourism Planner, and Policy Researcher personas
- Combine dashboards into a Tableau Story for a guided, narrative-driven presentation
- Publish to Tableau Public for free, browser-accessible sharing

Step 3 — Idea Prioritization

Idea	Impact	Feasibility	Priority
World map of sites by danger status	High	High	1
Category-wise site count chart	High	High	2
Region-wise Danger List ranking chart	High	High	3
Inscription trend line chart (1978–2019)	Medium	High	4

Idea	Impact	Feasibility	Priority
Role-specific dashboards (3)	High	Medium	5
Tableau Story (narrative)	Medium	Medium	6
Publish to Tableau Public	High	High	7
